Joe Sullivan and Jimmie Fox, who have been here training Willie Meehan, have returned to the metropolis.

Paul Vannucchi, manager for Willie Meehan, was at the ringside in Santa Rosa last Saturday night when his protege fought a draw with Walter Coffey.

Among those who took in the twenty-round contest in Santa Rosa Monday night between Coffey and Meehan were Ken Weaver, C. A. Bergstrom, Harry Baines and Wm. Fine.

Blair Hart, candidate on the Democratic ticket for Supervisor, was in town Tuesday, shaking hands with the voters of this place. Mr. Hart, as usual, made a good impression, and will succeed himself at Tuesday's election.

A house-warming was given A. Chelini last Sunday in honor of his purchase of the McCloskey home. The evening was merrily spent in dancing, singing and feasting, the music being furnished by musicians rom the metropolis.

The big talk here is incoporation. Small groups of men can be seen on our streets at any time discussing the proposition in the English, French, Italian, Greek and Hebrew languages. It is an important issue and our citizens are interested in the outcome.

A large gathering of men and women assembled at El Verano Villa last Thursday evening to discuss the proposition of incorporating El Verano and Agua Caliente T. H Baines was chosen chairman of the meeting, which was addressed by a number of our citizens for and against the proposition. Mrs Theodor Richards, who was present, said she was opposed to incorporation, as she did not want to lose the Postoffice at her place in Agua Caliente. The meeting was in session three hours. Another meeting is called to discuss the matter this (Thursday) evening.

An accident occurred near Eldridge last Friday morning. As the automobile belonging to the Paris Cleaning and Dyeing Works of Santa Rosa and driven by chauffeur Ives, was rounding a sharp curve by the Spreckels ranch it collided with a double team driven by Hank Moore, who was accompanied by Jim Doctor. One of the horse's legs were broken and the machine was damaged. The animal, which was a valuable one, belonged to the Spreckels ranch and had to be shot. Mr. Ives claimed that there was a bulk of trees at the gate and it was impossible to see the team until he was almost upon it. He then made a quick turn, thus averting a more serious accident.

Mrs. D. F. Crane is visiting in the Bay City.

Jim Baines is spending the week in San Francisco.

Max Couts of Kenwood was in town last Saturday.

Ed. Porthor is here from the city visiting H. Chevalier.

Fritz Holland transacted business in the metropolis Saturday.

Jim Cowan, roadmaster of Glen Ellen, was in town last Sunday.

A. H. Kemp was in the Exposition City the for pa t of the week.

J. K. Bigelow returned the latter part of last week from Los Angeles.

O. T. Wilkinson was a visitor to the county seat the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hughes spent Saturday and Sunday in the metropolis.

A. Block and John Matthews were El Verano visitors to Santa Rosa Friday.

Sam Mannuch and Louis Bernzaft took in the race meet at Petaluma Saturday and Sunday.

Dame Rumor has it that a poplar young man of Verano is soon to lead to the altar a Petaluma belle.

Frank Sprague, a Sonoma attorney, transacted business at the county seat last onday between trains.

Thos. Crowe, a well-known politician of San Francisco was in town the fore part of the week doing politics.

E. J. Kennedy, a prominent Socialist, is spending the week end here. He is the guest of P. W. Hawkinson, a brother Socialist.

O. T. Wilkinson, our popular laundry man, has just received from Santa Rosa a new laundry wagon, which he will use in connection with his business here.

Among the El Veranoites who took in the Petaluma ra es Sunday were Thos Ryan, Emmet Mullen, Wm. Kearney, M. J. Mullen, Jack Kearney and Alec Ballares.

J. M. Allison, who was a candidate for Supervisor on the democratic ticket, was here Saturday in the interest of Blair Hart. Mr. Allison is sure pulling for a winner.

The election officers for this precinct are: Inspectors, O. C. Benjamin and T. H Baines; Judges, W. J. Minkle and D. W. Corbin; Clerks, E. E Harris and N. J Dowdall.

As the election draws near things political are warming up and the supervisorial contest is the main issue. Blair Hart will be elected by a handsome majority over his opponent Harry Weise, who has the support of the Prohibitionists.

Another runaway occurred in our town last Friday. The horse belonging to L. Larbre, became frightened at a passing motorcycle and ran away. Our barber, John Basilou stopped the frightened animal, thus avoiding a bad mix up and was rewarded for his trouble.

The Anti-Roadhouse Amendment, which is to be voted upon at Tuesday's election, is very unpopular here, and in fact all over the county. It is an unfair measure and any voter who will take the trouble to study the amendment will no doubt agree with the writer and vote against it.

C. A. Bergstrom, Carl Weaver and George Weaver got the limit in a quail hunt near here last Sunday. The day's shoot ended with a feast at the Hotel Serres, with quail on toast and other good things to eat.

Sidelights on the Proposed Anti-Road House Ordinance.

BY CHAS. SPINDLER.

The Anti Road House League issued a circular letter to the voters of Sonoma county dated "September," in which they claim that their membership consists of professionals, real estate men, businses men, mechanics, laborers and capitalists. If one would examine the membership list he would find "professional agitators, business men, (wholesale whiskey dealers), mechanics few, if any, no free laborers, but capitalists of the class of Guy J. K. B."

The assurance is given that the Ordinance is not a Prohibition measure (but the first step to get to the top), and that none of the big hotels are affected by it (during the winter and until next spring election I have to add.) That letter also gives very good advice to resort or hotel keepers, viz: to add enough rooms to bring the number up to thirty-seven, just as easy as if Guy J. K. would put up a row of chicken coops.

In the State of New York, about eighteen years ago, the Raynes law went into effect. This so-called hayseed measure, introduced by an up-state lawyer, aimed to prohibit saloons from selling drinks on Sundays, but allowed hotels with ten rooms and dining room to sell drinks at meals. Before the law went into effect every corner saloon had added to the bar-room the ten rooms required by law and every one of them is used now for disorderly purposes, thereby creating a big but single tenderloin, which in former years had been confined to certain streets. A test case of "what constitutes a meal" was also taken up to the State Supreme Court and that tribunal decided "that crackers and cheese constitute a meal." Until that decision was handed down it would happen frequently when a stranger entered the dining room (Sunday saloon) that the waiter would holler up into the chimney, "beefsteak ra e with onions," but none never came down. After the court decision the waiter simply put a bowl with cheese and crackers in front of the guest before he would bring the drink and from the fly-spotted appearance of said cheese and crackers one could easily determine their age. In Coney Island the roadhouses all had more than ten rooms anyhow, but the inn-keepers had to supply the meals with drinks which were universally sandwiches, generally chained to the table and when they found that real sandwiches were too expensive they had wooden ones made, nicely painted.

Why that, here in Sonoma county, the rooming business (to call it by mild name) should be brought up to such a large scale (35) is not clear to the layman. Do these professionals and capitalists want Sonoma county to compete with San Francisco's tenderloin?

They also have the nerve to say in their letter "do not be deceived, etc.," and offer such a deceiving letter.

Is not the paragraph in said letter that "every elector in the county, those in incorporated cities and towns as well as in the county at large, is entitled to vote on this question" an effort to deceive, or is it malicious falsehood?

That roadhouses reduce real estate values in the country is also set forth in said letter, and this idea, I judge, was furnished by Guy J. K., having found out that his victim Gates could not make ends meet, viz: egg-production and feed-bills, on account of the many roadhouses and in consequence the capitalist and real estate man had the poor land with the good air above it on his hands again. Heretofore I was under the impression that the noise of the big organ of the big resort near by with more than thirty-five rooms had interfered with the business (egg laying) of the chickens and broke Gates.

With reference to the claim that the roadhouse evil is the greatest detriment to the prosperity in Sonoma County and that we taxpayers should be blest with this Ordinance which would put us on equal footing with Southern California, I quote a letter by Mr. R. H. Summers, a well-known banker of Colton, dated September 30th, 1912;

"Colton went dry in April, 1910, and at that time our bank deposits, according to the report to the Controller of Currency, were highest. Our hotels and lodging houses were full and we had no vacant houses. Business was good and everyone was friendly.

"After two years of prohibition our town was dead. By actual count there were one hundred and twenty vacant houses. Our principal hotel was closed and lodging houses were about half full. Bank deposits dropped $50,000, while at San Bernardino three miles away, the banks gained $1,000,000 and the railway company had increased its car service from Colton to San Bernardino fifty per cent.

"Another election resulted in licenses being issued on May 1st, 1912, when all strife and animosity were laid aside. A fine hotel opened and our lodging houses are doing fine. There are only eight or ten vacant houses in town today. Business is brisk in spite of the greatest freeze of the citrus fruit last winter in the history of Southern California.

"Our water and light rate has since been reduced 25 per cent and much street paving is being done. A large theater is being built and other substantial buildings will soon be erected.

"During the dry regime, our bankers went to San Bernardino every month and brought back to Colton from $6,000 to $10,000 in silver regularly. Now, our silver stays at home. We have an active Health Board and Inspector, and our Garbage Ordinance is enforced. In short, the town is being thoroughly cleaned up. There are no more drunkards to be seen than during the dry administration and we need no extra police. The $725 a month revenue from liquor licenses has helped us out materially in improving our conditions.

"Even the drys say that we have the best Council for doing things in the history of the town."

Comparing this letter written by a banker with sorrowful experiences with the lecture of a Sonoma banker when addressing a Sunday School audience, shortly before last spring election, saying, that he wished to live long enough to see the vineyards of the hillsides turned into wheat fields, will lead to the conclusion that it would serve the Sonoma banker right to taste a dry spell of two years.

Voters and tax-payers, please compare the above letter with the assurance, promises and falsehoods of the Anti-Roadhouse League What Ross Campbell, whose name appears on the heading of the Anti-Roadhouse letter, as attorney, likely considers prosperity, are "law-suits, bankruptcy and ouster proceedings." What the rest of professional agitators want us to try has been tried elsewhere, like in Colton. They tax the innocent-believing of the Sonoma tax-payer to the limit, trying to picture Southern California as a dry country and with their siren song (September Letter) coax us into copying or apeing mistakes made elsewhere.

But behind all lies the unmistakable fact that capitalists and real estate men want to force values on real estate down, so that they can buy at their figures, and when the drunkard-producing wave has drowned in the Pacific they will unload at their prices.

Less than three months ago I went with two friends from Fresno to Bakersfield in an automobile through an absolute Wyllie-dry-lawed country and on the way south we had six drinks each, on the way back five in BLIND PIGS. Some of it was temperance beer but most of it was real good lager beer, called "Morovit." The law does not forbid drinking and I am quite certain that half the beer would have done us, had we been sure to find the next place open for business.

Cardinal Gibbons' golden words came back to my mind that very Sunday, viz: "when a law is flagrantly and habitually violated, it brings legislation into contempt. It creates a spirit of deception and hypocrisy and compels men to do insidiously and by stealth what they would otherwise do openly and above board. You cannot legislate men by civil action into the performance of good and righteous deeds."

In that siren song of the Anti-Roadhouse League we read that the League is not dominated by any religious sect nor temperance organization. The Anti-Saloon League uses the word political organization besides the qualification of the Anti-Roadhouse League, but as long as the professional agitators are paid by one of the same, the whiskey trust, what is the difference or what does it matter? And we poor victims, tax-payers, have to foot the bill.

On the bottom of that letter is a sample copy of the Ordinance (carefully styled proposed.) And in it is only one single word missing to distinguish it from the state wide Prohibition laws of Georgia or Alabama (since repealed.) The Ordinance reads, "offering for sale or giving away," and in the prohibition measure the word MANUFACTURING is put before offering for sale to make it a prohibition law.

Now, have you raisers of hops and barley, grape-growers and wineries and all connected with these products from the Sonoma soil considered the consequences and what the Anti-Roadhouse League means when it writes about values of property and prosperity in Sonoma County?

And will the wording of that (proposed) Ordinance be really as printed in that siren song, or may it be possible that a little joker will slip in, and by adding one single word change the whole intended, PROHIBITION PREVENTING, Ordinance?

I am not a lawyer and it does not require any legal knowledge to know that to vote in incorporated cities for the county on said Ordinance is illegal and that the promise in said Ordinance, viz: "that one can buy in one-gallon lots" is against the wording of the Wyllie Law which stipulates two gallons as minimum, will invalidate the Ordinance. Such country lawyers like Ross Campbell and ex-lawyers like Guy J. K. certainly know it. In consequence herewith I believe that the wording of the (proposed) Ordinance as printed in that siren song and the real Ordinance, forced down the throats of the voters will prove two distinctly different measures.

Remember about the panacea of Dr. Jeykll and Mr. Hyde. The awakening on the morning after the election would be a sad one.

The Anti-Roadhouse League in its efforts to close the roadhouses no doubt wants to stop the small man (see J. K's classification) from getting a drink, but permit themselves and their capitalist members those harmless luxuries. They are no tetotalers, they claim, as I have met many in England who swear-off for good, but do not worry about their neighbors. They do not know that what is gravy for the goose is gravy for the gander. They do not see any filth and dirt in front of their door, but keep on sweeping in front of others. Now, are they of the German true temperance society (half brothers of the English tetotalers?)

I remember when a boy of eight or ten years that near us was living an old retired sea-captain who through the efforts of his housekeeper joined the North German Temperance Society. Ten weeks later he called a doctor, who after close examination, advised him to go back to his old style of living and take a hot Scotch off and on as formerly. The captain could not on account of his obligations, and even, the doctor's suggestion to drink this at home instead of a public drinking place, would not change old captain Boggs, fearing his housekeeper. Finally the doctor asked Boggs whether he was shaving himself and got the reply "every day." "Now," said the doctor, "you tell your housekeeper to bring the hot water for shaving twice daily and make use of one for shaving and put a little sugar and Scotch into the other one." Some weeks later the doctor passed Captain Boggs' house and in the front garden saw the housekeeper. He inquired about the old Captain and the housekeeper informed him that the Captain would soon have to be taken to an insane asylum as he was doing nothing else but honing razors and shaving himself and she had to bring hot water about twenty times a day. The doctor made a serious face but was glad that he gave Boggs good advice, better than medicine would have done the old man.

These English and German tetotalers are harmless. They try to improve their own short-comings (lack of will power) by swearing off similar to vegetarians who deny themselves meat for meals.

But these world-improvers and drunkard producing professionals and capitalists, styling themselves Anti-Roadhouse or Anti-Saloon League (and from the larva will come the moth prohibitionists) will not stop agitating as long as the whiskey trust furnishes the expense funds, and as long as they can have all they desire.

Show them by your vote what you think of zealots and hypocrites styling themselves "Purity Crusaders."

Vote for Blair Hart for Supervisor.

Men and women voters when you go to the polls next Tuesday, it matters not what your party affiliations may be, cast your ballots for Blair Hart for Supervisor. His election will insure peace and prosperity in this district and will be a rebuke to the Prohibitionist agitators and their allies.

Republicans Cast Your Ballots For Wilson For President.

The Republicans of California having been disfranchised by Hiram Johnson and his Bull Moose political machine, nothing now remains but for every good, true and loyal Republican to cast his ballot for Woodrow Wilson for President. This will be done all over the State and the Republicans of Sonoma County must do their share toward defeating the Roosevelt-Johnson gang of politicians who are now seeking to build up a new party on the ruins of the grand old Republican party, which has made these United States the most prosperous nation on earth the past fifty years.

Vote Against the Roadhouse Measure

One of the most vicious measures ever presented to an intelligent electorite is that of the so-called Anti-Roadhouse Ordinance. It is not only unfair and vicious in every way but is a little joker being handed out to the voters by the Prohibitionists, who seek to gain a point in an underhanded way where they never could succeed by coming out in the open and showing their hand. Forewarned is forearmed.

St. Francis Church

I am pleased to state that the fair given for the benefit of St. Francis Church has been the most successful fair, both socially and financially, ever given in Sonoma. Its success was due, to the good ladies who worked so energetically and to the generosity of the Sonoma Valley people. To everyone who contributed in any way to the success of the fair I return my most sincere thanks.

Items Gleaned by our Live-Awake Reporter the Past Week

Supervisor Blair Hart was in town Tuesday accompanied by his life-long friend Wm. Ping.

The Glen Ellen ball team held a social dance here Saturday night and all report a fine time. It will play a game here Sunday.

Manager Collins did not give a a show here last Monday night. He said it rained too hard. Those who came and were disappointed will never come again.

The school children are going to have a real city show at Mayflower Hall on Nov. 15th. It will be a one hour, one act drama. Next week the names of the people in the cast will be given.

Chas. Poppe is up and around again after a long illness. During his sickness Mrs. Poppe had her hands full looking out for the postoffice and grocery store. She sure is a fine helpmate to "Sir Chas," as his friends call him.

George W. Samuel, a well known San Francisco business man, was a caller to Harry's Inn last Sunday. He was accompanied by Louis Herling of the China Steamboat Co. They are both old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkins.

The Kent meeting her Monday afternoon brought out a lot of "Keep-my-job-John-on people" from the State Home The meeting was called for 4 p. m. How is it that so many people could get off at 3:30 p. m. when they are getting paid for full time?

During his brief absence the animal became frightened at a passing handcar on the S. P. track and bolted, making a beeline for his stable between this place and Sonoma. Fred took after the runaway and after a chase of several blocks caught up with the animal and jumping into the wagon from the rear made his way to the shafts and climbing along the horse's back brought him to a standstill by grabbing the bridle bit.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR CALIENTE

A Well Known Woman is Thrown out of Rig and Has Skull Crushed

Mrs. Heintz, widow of the late Alfred Huddart, but who was married to Mr. Heintz about two years ago, met with a fatal accident last Tuesday afternoon while driving into town from her mountain ranch near Agua Caliente. The horse over which she held the reins became frightened while desending a steep grade and ran away. The vehicle struck a boulder alongside the road and hurled the unfortunate woman down into a deep ravine. In her descent the right side of her head came in contact with a large rock and crushed it like an eggshell.

No one witnessed the accident, but B. Marmori, a resident of this city, who was working near, heard the woman scream and went to her assistance. He found her lying unconscious and face downward. Seeing that Mrs. Heintz was fatally hurt, he turned her over on her back and after making her as comfortable as possible ran all the way to Agua Caliente for assistance. Upon arriving at the Agua Caliente Springs Hotel he found Dr. Thomson there and a relief party was formed which went to the fatal spot and brought the dying woman to the hotel, where her injuries were examined by both Dr. Thomson and Dr. Hays, who pronounced them fatal and she passed away at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The deceased had lived on her mountain ranch about three miles northeast of Agua Caliente for many years. She was the widow of the late Alfred Huddart, and was married to Mr Heintz about two years ago. She is survived by her second husband and a thirteen year old boy and a young lady daughter, children by her first marriage. She was a most estimable woman and her tragic death has cast a gloom over the entire valley.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF SPAN OF HORSES

Found Dead in Deep Gully on the Filippini Ranch With Wrecked Wagon on Top of Them

A valuable team of horses belonging to Peter Gatto, a Swiss dairyman and lessee of the old O. P. Smith ranch in the Southern part of the valley, were found dead by a vaquero on the Filippini stock ranch last Monday, while he was rounding up cattle.

The animals and the wagon to which they were attached were lying at the bottom of a deep ravine with the wrecked wagon on top of them.

This led to an investigation and it developed that Gatto, the owner of the animals, had been drinking very heavily and while verging on delirium had hitched up the team and was last seen driving the animals aimlessly around. A search for the owner revealed the fact that he was unharmed, but just how the accident happened never will be known.

It is presumed, however, the animals ran away and threw him out of the rig and afterward plunged to their death in the deep ravine.

Birthday Party on Broadway

On Saturday evening, at her home on Broadway. Miss Alma Dal Poggetto was tendered a party by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dal Poggetto, in honor of her twenty-first birthday. About twenty boy and girl friends of the young lady were present, and spent the evening in playing games, singing, etc.

The spacious rooms were artistically decorated with grape vines, greens and large masses of chrysanthemums, and presented a very pretty appearance. At 12 o'clock the guests rapaired to the dining room, where a fine spread was partaken of. Last of all came a huge birthday cake, which was given Miss Alma by her sister Gilia. The party broke up early in the morning, all having had a grand time.

Miss Dal Poggetto was the recipient of many pieces of silver, cut-glass, jewelery, etc.

INCORPORATION OF EL VERANO AND AGUA CALIENTE

An Open Letter to the People of the Affected District by a Large Resident Property Owner.

BY CHAS. SPINDLER.

Under date of October 21st, 1912, Mr. L. Mouyer issued a notice of importance for many El Verano property owners to the people in El Verano generally. In this notice he says "you will be asked to favor the incorporation of El Verano with Agua Caliente precinct." I am not aware that more than an open discussion of the subject has been the result so far from the meetings held and that nobody has been asked to favor the subject for the benefit of somebody.

He says that the proposition is a dangerous one---which expression is ill-chosen, as there is no danger connected with such an act, excepting financially to the big land owners.

In said letter is also mentioned that the additional expenses would make it hard that property-owners would have to abandon their property. If such big property-owners, holding over 300 acres in the affected, or district in view, were driven out by high taxation, would be a blessing to the whole community. The reason can be found in an article that I wrote for this paper in April, 1912, entitled "Who is a Desirable Citizen." Only those big plantation owners would feel a more just distribution of taxes in a town.

But what would be the additional taxes for city government? Mr. Mouyer mentions roads and bridges. If we do not want any of these improvements are the people outside of El Verano or Caliente districts paying these for us now?

If we want any more or real improvements would our district not have to pay for these by taxation?

If we want any at all, do we not now have to petition the whole Board of Supervisors?

Is the Supervisor, roadmaster, water-wagon driver, etc., not paid from our taxes, and what are we getting now in return for taxes?

I paid $21.65 special road and school taxes in 1911 and once the sprinkling wagon went along the road, by mistake, having lost its way. This year we got nothing.

I for one am satisfied that under city government the taxes paid will apply to the included district, and if we want more improvements, we have to pay more. We need them, too, because standing still is going backward and our district is at a stand-still to-day. I am fully aware of the fact that special taxes (on licenses for instance) is benefiting the county now, whereas in the incorporated city these would go to the city fund.

The people in the district affected would have to select a charter in which they can stipulate the to be paid salaries, if any, to town trustees or commissioners. And if any city employee would not prove satisfactory he could be recalled.

Under city government we would be able to replace him quickly and conveniently.

Of course, Mr. Mouyer is right in saying that we, the people in the affected district, should open our eyes to the facts, but his reference to underhanded work or in secret is out of place, because the instigators of the movement openly and above-board invited me and all by an open postal card. This cannot be called secretly nor underhanded.

And just what Mr. Mouyer gives as a warning that people should be informed of what is going on was the object of the first meetings held for open discussion of the question.

It is regretable that so much territory must be taken in to show a population of 500, as required under the Wyllie Law. But considering that we now have to pay for what we are getting and that we have to pay higher taxes if we want more, either as a district in Sonoma County or as incorporated city, the interested people as well those annexed or included are better served and safer with a good city charter to get or inhibit improvemeuts. They would hold the reins in their own hand and by popular vote can enact or defeat measures better than are now possible.

Experience has shown that cities are expanding their boundaries because the larger the city the lower the cost of government. With pleasure I have observed the growth of small cities with an active population through the U. S. and Canada.

If we want improvements in the district we have to pay cash, whereas in the incorporated city we can vote on bond issues and pay on long terms.

Sorry to say that business has kept me south so that I could not attend the meetings and for that reason I want to state a few facts.

The three steps, stages or periods of devlopment of a state or country are:

First—Mining and lumbering. Second — Agriculture. Third — Maufacturing.

A state or community with the third degree is fully developed and has reached the height of civilization. Certain states cannot get beyond the first stage, for instance, Nevada. There is not enough soil or sand and the altitude is preventing Nevada to reach the second stage; a smelter or two can hardly give Nevada the attribute manufacturing.

Our Sleepy Hollow (valley) is past the lumbering stage and through soil robbing, taking from it for a half century without restoring fertility, is also past the second or agricultural period What remains to increase values, to make it a community with a growing population is manufacturing. This must come from outside because there are no resources in the shape or form of raw materials at hand. But will it come to a district? I say it may come to a town with a live Chamber of Commerce, a good developing association and an up-to-date administration.

Factories need all sorts of help, more people are drawn in, more outside money is coming in. The younger class and growing generation will find employment and stay at home instead of flocking to larger cities.

A city can bond itself for buying up tracts of land to be offered at low prices as inducement to manufacturers. County districts cannot do this and therefore the longer we stay or sleep at our present stage, the poorer we all will become and the bigger will grow the estates of those who are in reality behind the objection to incorporate El Verano and Caliente districts.

Value of real estate is bound to increase in cities, however, by reactionary measures such as favored by our big landowners they will go down to suit those barons.

W. W. AMOS MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Found Unconscious in Ditch Near El Dorado Hotel and Expires in Broadway Sanitarium

W. W. Amos, for many years a plumber in the employ of J. G. Marcy & Son and lately employed by J. J. Dunbar, was found unconscious and dying in the open ditch opposite the El Dorado Hotel last Saturday night about 10 o'clock.

The unconscious man was picked up and taken to the Broadway Sanitarium, where he lingered in an unconscious state until Monday when he passed away.

The deceased had evidently stumbled into the ditch and received injuries coupled with exposure which caused his death.

The deceased was a native of Illinois and aged 61.

The remains were claimed by a sister who had them shipped to San Francisco for interment.
